1. Mission: Beyond Boobs! is dedicated to saving and healing lives by supporting young women diagnosed with breast cancer while providing breast health education for all.

Our slogan, "UNTIL THERE'S A CURE, THERE'S US," expresses the relational and educational exempt purposes Beyond Boobs! was created to meet. While we wait for a cure for breast cancer, our young survivors are walking this difficult "road" with each other, while reaching a hand back to ease the journey for newly diagnosed women as well. Beyond Boobs! is also doing everything it can to make sure that all women are not just aware of, but are actually doing what they need to ensure early detection and manage their risk of breast cancer.

Form 990 - Additional Information

In Part I, Line 16b we show fundraising expenses of $43,402. More than 50% of the funds expended in this category were for the purchase of an auto and other items that were raffled off. None of the fundraising expenditures were paid to third-party professional fund-raising organizations.

Form 990, Part I, Line 6

Volunteers assist in all aspects of our work, particularly the support work, of Beyond Boobs. They host our monthly support groups for the young breast cancer survivors we serve (we currently we have 4 from Virginia Beach to Richmond, Virginia), connect with these young women by phone, email, and personal visits in between, plan fun events for the ladies to enjoy each other's company and support, accompany our ladies to doctor appointments and treatments (chemotherapy and radiation, for example), and provide meals, transportation, and other services as needed. They help Beyond Boobs! create the "support systems" that nurture and encourage young women on their cancer journeys and beyond.

Volunteers also assist in program presentations (such as speaking engagements, health fairs, and exhibit booths), fund raising, administrative tasks, bookkeeping, distribution of educational materials, coordinating our retail inventory, gathering content for our Hope Totes, organizing retreats, staffing events such as our annual gala and annual run, serving on our speaker's bureau, and representing Beyond Boobs! at community events to help spread our educational messages of early detection and taking charge of your breast health.

In 2011, volunteers contributed a total of 6,971 hours to the work of Beyond Boobs! The staff contributed 775 volunteer hours in addition to their paid time, and one of the co-founders contributed 1,615 hours of volunteer time. Our "Full Support" Volunteers (committed to working in the office at least one day per week) contributed a total of 2,776 hours, and our event related volunteers added another 1,807 hours.

The organization is served by a number of volunteers that provide specialized skills that are so essential to our charitable organization's operations that Beyond Boobs! would need to seek out and hire these skills if they were not offered at no cost by the volunteers. These skills constitute an integral part of the efforts of the organization as it is presently constituted and they would be performed by a salaried person or by professional consultants if the donated services were not available. The Board of Directors of Beyond Boobs ! has asked that the time of the volunteers be measured and valued. The Board reviewed these valuations and by resolution approved them, thus meeting all of the criteria required for accrual under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles as determined by the American Institute of CPAs. The value of the services of these volunteers was $206,475 in 2011. This total, if allowed to be included in the tax return, would be apportioned $139,133 to Program Services, $58,992 to Fund Raising Activities, and $8,350 to Administrative Activities. The percentage of total expenditures resulting from inclusion of the value of these services in total expenditures would be 23% for Fund Raising and 11% for Administrative Activities for 2011.

young age. By bringing these young women together we provide them with a community of "sisters" who are successfully helping each other get through breast cancer and deal with the long-term issues of "survivorship." They share tears and laughter, experiences, up-to-date knowledge, encouragement, and greatest of all, hope.

After these bonds are formed, the positive effects begin to spill over into their families, whose members frequently become involved in Beyond Boobs! activities as well. Here is an excerpt from a recent newsletter that explains this phenomenon that is the "magic" of Beyond Boobs!

"Two of our 2012 calendar girls, Ms. April and Ms. May, Shae (32, diagnosed at 29) and Sara (27, diagnosed at 25), both found Beyond Boobs! after being diagnosed with breast cancer, and they allowed us the privilege of becoming a part of their lives and holding their hands as they traveled a very scary and unexpected path. Sara is now a regular volunteer at the Beyond Boobs! office, and offers this perspective, "Throughout my cancer battle my friends and family all wanted to be my mom; Beyond Boobs! only wanted to be my friend. They are the best friend a girl could have."

We don't want to be every girl's best friend. (That's what diamonds are for!) But we definitely want to be there for any young woman who finds herself unexpectedly needing a friend who "has been there, done that." Our unique "support systems" provide the vehicle for these women to come together and love each other through breast cancer and beyond. There are a variety of organizations focused on research, or screening, or awareness, but we provide the services that are needed by the women with breast cancer NOW - love and hope. And by helping them, we are also helping their families, and ultimately our communities."

In 2011, we provided support for 313 young women through monthly gatherings for "Tea and Talk" in the personal atmosphere of homes, referrals to community resources, uplifting retreats, "girls' nights out" for fun and laughter, connections to each other to share information and encouragement, and "Hope Totes" of useful items during treatment for the newly diagnosed. Beyond Boobs! lightened the load of young women battling this disease and helped them thrive, not just survive, through a measured number of "units of service" (interactions with individual women) this year:

"Individual Attention (phone calls/emails/in person visits) - 44,422

"H.I.P. Chick Activities ("Girl's Nights Out") - 77

We also hosted one weekend retreat, took 20+ of our ladies to the Young Survivors' Conference in Orlando, and held four support group meetings every month.

Our longer-term goal for our support program is to secure funding and take these reproducible, community-based peer support systems to other localities across the country, and eventually internationally, so that more young women may benefit from our unique brand of encouragement during treatment and beyond, when it is often needed even more. As an organization started by two survivors as a result of their own experiences with breast cancer at a young age, our goal is to make sure that any young woman diagnosed with breast cancer has access to all the love, support, and friendship she needs from her peers who have traveled the same scary, life-altering journey before her. [In the first quarter of 2012, we have started a support system in Moyock, North Carolina, and are about to open one in the Hopewell/Petersburg, Virginia area to be followed by one in Northern Virginia].

breast cancer early, when it is most treatable. In addition, young women often have delayed diagnoses because they don't know they need to be checking or their doctors dismiss their concerns based solely on age.

The current objective of this educational program service of Beyond Boobs! is to offer breast health education with a fresh, new twist to get women past these "roadblocks" and to motivate them to employ lifesaving early detection actions. We even use humor to encourage the men in their lives to help ("Early Detector Inspectors"). Following are a number of ways we currently spread our breast health message in the areas we currently serve and even beyond:

"A Calendar to LIVE By" - Each year we produce our main educational tool, a "breast health manual" disguised as beautiful, inspiring wall calendar of young survivors that we filled with information every woman needs to know to take charge of her breast and general health, what to do if you've been diagnosed, and how to help someone who is going through it. Of the 10,000 printed for 2011, we donated or distributed more than half (7,500) to health departments, hospitals, schools, free clinics, and newly diagnosed women in the communities we serve.

Educational Speakers Bureau/Health Events Outreach -- We offer lively, entertaining (yes, even breast health can be entertaining!) presentations on topics such as "How to be a Chick in Charge of Your Breast Health" and "How to Bloom Where You are Planted Even If Your 'Pot' is Cracked." Designed to encourage healthy living and to share the things we learned from having breast cancer, our presentations dispel fear and leave listeners smiling and inspired. Through an active Speakers Bureau, Beyond Boobs! did 67 speaking engagements or health fairs in 2011, reaching approximately 3,934 attendees (who then took our health information and calendars distributed to an estimated equal or greater number of additional people in their work and/or home settings).

Social Media Outreach - We effectively use social media to reach many more people than we could otherwise with our educational messages, reminders to do the actions required for early detection, and inspiration to live life to the fullest. We consistently posted (generally on a daily basis) to our BB! Facebook Fans throughout the year (5,698 Fans at Year End), Tweeted more than 1,000 tweets to our growing number of Followers (173 Followers at Year End), and sent out seven (7) different electronic newsletters throughout the year to approximately 2,300 Constant Contact email addresses (with an average of 24% of Opens) each time. These newsletters contained information about our activities, health tips and information, healthy recipes, the latest breast cancer research updates, and inspiring stories about our young ladies.

Community Outreach - Through a number of events sponsored just by Beyond Boobs! and other events in partnership with various community organizations and businesses to benefit Beyond Boobs!, we spread our educational mission and messages throughout the areas we serve, with the result that more women are taking the steps to ensure early detection (this result is anecdotal based on the reports of women who let us know). Following is a list of those 2011 events with attendance estimates:
